>> Virtual Office Concept

Virtual Office is a kind of service which means that you hire overseas employees of our company working on your projects. Our Virtual office services enables you in getting qualified and experienced personnel to suit your requirements working exclusively for you from our offices. The service is charged for fixed price per hour or per month basis.

I-Link extends this service flexibility to its customer globally whereby we outsource set of people forming Team/s to work dedicatedly and exclusively for the client who have intended to do so. These dedicated teams, although are part of I-Link, will have complete access to all the facilities and support as other teams do and if required, will also be equipped with specialized needs as demanded by the clients.

To make this Virtual office concept more supportive, we extend seamless communication by extensively using internet means like messenger chat (msn, yahoo), voice chat (Skype), VOIP and of course the most common and continuous connectivity via email. Our local Project manager / leaders or Team leaders will constantly be taking care of the development process, also while you are away.

Benefits

We believe in working with few rather than many by means of our quality and committed services.

Biggest treasure is when we get references to the new customers from our existing customers. Our network grows with our customers.....

Extending services beyond the customers expectation first time and every time, helps us to get most of our business from the existing customers.

>> Our Customers

TESS.Net software is designed specifically to meet the requirements of the Sales people spread in different continent thereby integrating the data from the field staff to the central office ensuring up-to-date information on the customer at any point in time.

I-Link would be glad to exhibit the demos of applications developed for the customers at client's convenience. Demos can be arranged anytime with our team members. Your trust and faith would say it all...

Wellness for Beonit has been conceptualized on the idea of providing individuals with a market place to meet people of their interest, exchange information in the common geographic boundaries and is based on the strong concepts of networking.
